Good to know before you go

Jordan Pass
Buy it online before you travel: it covers Petra, Wadi Rum, Jerash and more than 40 other sites, and, for eligible visitors, waives the tourist visa fee if you stay at least 2 consecutive nights (3 days).

What to bring
Passport valid for at least 6 months, The Jordan Pass (printed or on your phone), Walking shoes, hat and sunscreen, Warm layers for Wadi Rum nights, Swimwear for the Dead Sea.

Best season
Spring (March–May) and autumn (September–November) are the most comfortable. Summers are hot in Petra, Wadi Rum and the Dead Sea.

What to wear
Light, modest clothes; shoulders and knees covered at religious sites. Good walking shoes, and a warm layer for desert evenings.

Money
The Jordanian dinar (JOD). Cards are widely accepted in hotels and restaurants; keep some cash for small shops and tips.

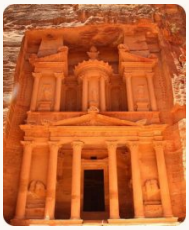

Water
Drink bottled water, and carry 1.5–2 litres on long walking days.

Power & time
230 V, European (C/F) and British (G) sockets. Jordan is on UTC+3 all year.

Local customs
Friday is the weekly holiday. Ask before photographing people; drones need prior permission.

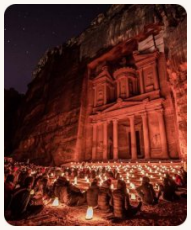

Emergencies
Dial 911 for police, ambulance or fire. Our team is on WhatsApp throughout your trip.

Your guide to the places you will visit

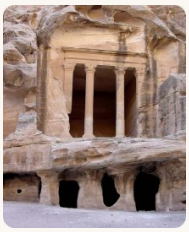

Petra
The rose-red city of the Nabataeans, a UNESCO World Heritage site and one of the New Seven Wonders. The Siq, a gorge about 1.2 km long, opens onto the Treasury.

- Start as early as you can to beat the heat and the crowds.
- Carry plenty of water; the Monastery is about 800 steps up.

Petra by Night
The Siq and the square in front of the Treasury lit by candles, with Bedouin music and tea.

- It runs on certain evenings of the week only.
- Bring a warm layer – evenings are cool in the canyon.

Little Petra
Siq al-Barid, a smaller Nabataean site just north of Petra, once a stop for trading caravans. Look up for the rare painted ceiling.

- Quiet and compact – about an hour is enough.
- A good warm-up the morning after Petra.
